WHY THIS GAME?

This game is a practical, engaging, and innovative tool to teach young people about sexuality and the prevention of sexual violence. The topics addressed in the scenarios were chosen after consultation with adolescents from different walks of life. They were then revised by a team of professionals at Marie-Vincent to ensure their alignment with mandatory content in sexuality education and real-life issues faced by young people, and developed for the game by the Alice & Smith agency.

HOW TO USE IT?

We recommend incorporating one or more scenarios into the mandatory content in sexuality education activities taught in the classroom. The companion guide for high school staff suggests pedagogical activities for each game scenario. The free guide is available here: <https://marie-vincent.org/en/services/prevention-adolescents-section/#tools>
